

SHIRE OF COCOS KEELING ISLANDS

VACANCY: MANAGER INFRASTRUCTURE

Are you ready for a sea change and a leadership challenge in one of Australia's most stunning and remote island communities? The Shire of Cocos (Keeling) Islands is seeking a skilled, proactive and community-minded Manager Infrastructure to lead the delivery of essential infrastructure services.

The key areas of responsibility include but are not limited to:

- Leading the Infrastructure and Works team across Home and West Island.
- Delivering capital works projects and maintaining critical infrastructure.
- Managing assets, waste services, roads, buildings and marine facilities.
- Overseeing contractor engagement and procurement.
- Ensuring compliance with relevant legislation and safety standards.

About You:

We're looking for a candidate who is not only technically capable, but also collaborative, resourceful and community focused.

Essential:

- Qualification in civil engineering, asset or project management.
- Experience in delivering infrastructure projects.
- Leadership and contractor management experience.

Desirable:

- Experience in remote or cross-cultural settings.
- Understanding of local government operations.

What We Offer:

- Competitive salary and superannuation.
- Subsidised housing and utilities.
- Relocation assistance.
- Five weeks annual leave.
- Unique lifestyle in a close-knit island community.
